BATTLE WITH THE ROBBERS

Two Men Killed and Several Seriously Wounded-Four Bandits Did the Bloody Work.

Longview, Tex., May 24.—At 3 p. m. yesterday two rough-looking men walked into the First National if so, only one man remains to be Saturday, found a notice of warning excitement, with possibilities of bank, one wearing a slicker, with a identified. The robbers rode on the door of her house yesterday wide-spread dimensions. The Winchester concealed in its folds. He handed the following note to President Joe Clemmons:

First National Bank, Longview. HOME, May 23.—This will introduce you to Charles Specklemeyer, who wants some money and is going to have it. A. AND F.

It was written in pencil in a fairly good hand on the back of a printed pointed his Winchester at him and told him to hold up his hands. The other robber rushed into the side wire door and grabbed the cash. Tom Clemmons and the other bank officials were ordered to hold up their hands. The robbers hurriedly emptied the vaults, securing $2,ooo in $10 bills, No. 9, and nine $20 bills, No. 20, and seven unsign- meeting and the interest is such ed Longview bank notes, which that the church is crowded to it full may lead to their detection.

Deputy Will Stevens was not hurt, though he stood in short range and killed one of the robbers. The bankers all escaped unhurt.

The robbers who stood guard in the alleys would yell at everyone who came in sight and shoot at them instantly. When the robbers rode away and saw one of their comrades dead, they remarked: "Poor Bennett is dead." The body of the dead robber was identified as George Bennett, a reckless fellow who had been here some months ago and married a daughter of a respectable farmer living near here, but left her and went to the Indian territory. He was dressed like a cowboy, with high-heeled boots and spurs, and a belt full of cartridges and two double-action revolvers. THE greed of the protected all parties. barons may force absolute free trade upon the country.

Just read the first slate handed in by Mayor Hastain and see how his organ's claims of "patriotic" action on his part falls to the ground. It was a brazen attempt to make a purely partisan force out of the city employes, in face of the fact that half the council was democratic.

THE course of the protected barons in resorting to bribery and corruption in order to defeat tariff payer whether he pays two per cent reform indicates clearly that they on a $5,000 valuation, or one per are determined to oppose any reduction of tariff taxes. It will under the old plan is to pile the seems in these cases as if all the WE are authorized to announce HENRY Y. occur to the opponents of "protection" that a fight for absolute because what he has to pay seems free trade may be necessary in so small in the aggregate. LAST year the Gazette abused Messrs. Dugan and Bosserman because they did not, as members of the council, stand out for a share of the pie for their friends. The republicans of the city, under the leadership of the Gazette, rebuked the gentlemen named by refusing to tive in tone and that the uncerre-nominate them. Under the circumstances the Gazette, and those who were with it last year, should take off their hats to the democrats in the present council.

At the last meeting he proposed to concede to the council the privilege of naming the police and himself assume the right to name the other officers. Why this change of mind as to the importance of naming the police? Has the mayor grown weary of reform already?

WHENEVER a politician is downed in an attempt to gobble pie, he begins to prate about "patriotism," "public office, public trust" and all the silly stuff that demagogues try to deceive the people with. All sensible people know, however, that the politician is always seeking to put his own friends in office; and next to his own personal friends, his own partisans. This is a fact, and the whole municipal muddle has grown out of a contest for pie. the mayor has attempted to grab more than he can hold and in doing so dropped all he grabbed, he can only blame his own lack of judgment. The sensible thing to have done, with a council equally divided politically, would have been to meet the members of the council in a friendly spirit, and by a fair, conciliatory course have harmonized all differences. But now that he has failed and members of his own party have begun to grumble, the cars every half hour in the after- for the Epworth League of the First mayor's organ cannot build a repu- noon.
